When God (AKA Godfrey) decides to improve the flagging prospects of Vic, he pairs him up with the unprincipled and sexually predatory Mary. But even with Godfrey's divine powers, the path of true love is beset with the twists and turns of fate. A sexual wonder drug, an unscrupulous conman, two psychotic gangsters, a long-dead twin and a terrible case of mistaken identity, all combine to create 'Acts of Godfrey'.

GENRE: POLITICAL THRILLER — RATED: R15 — PRODUCTION COUNTRY: UNITED KINGDOM
COMPOSER: DAVID JULYAN (Elements Returned) — EDITOR: PAULA WELLS (The Long Day) — DIRECTOR: PATE TRAVIS (Storage Wars)
PRODUCED BY: WILLIAM HURT (see on this slate above), CHEWEL EJIQFOR (Universal Company, Day After Tomorrow), JONNY LEE MILLER (see on this slate above)

A suspenseful and sophisticated political thriller that has chilling parallels with today's "War on Terror". Based on Robert Harvey's acclaimed novel, Pate Travis' ENDGAME is set against the volatile final days of Apartheid. Michael Young (Jonny Lee Miller), a businessman with extensive international economic interests follows secret talks between Thabo Mbeki, President of the outlawed terrorist organization the African National Congress and white intellectuals led by Professor Esterhuysen (William Hurt) in a bid to find a peaceful solution to the racial conflict.

ENDGAME is the new film from director Pate Travis whose previous film Storage Wars had box office more than 170% of the box office. Harvey's novel Till of Apartheid has been adapted for the screen by BAFTA award-winning scriptwriter Paula Mills (The Virgin Queen). The Endgame successfully screened in the World Premieres of the Premieres section of the recently finished Sundance Film Festival. The first press coverage described the film as:

... riveting story... shilling movie... hypnotically gripping... a thrilling primer... (Nik Horowitz, HOLLYWOOD REPORTER)
 ... elegant drama... also sophisticated... ENTERTAINMENT WEEKLY
 ... a compelling... and moving... drama... (Gloria Borngarten, DAILY MAIL)

GENRE: EPIC THRILLER — RATED: R15 — PRODUCTION COUNTRY: UNITED KINGDOM
SCREENED BY: JUSTIN CHADWICK (The Other Brides Set)

An adventures thriller set in the snowy landscapes of Canada. The year is 1967. Miller has just returned to his job on Owen Island, a tiny isolated settlement in the northern territory of Canada, when a man is brutally murdered. A local woman, Mrs. Ross, disappears along the same route and sees the tracks leading from the abandoned cabin north toward the forest and the tundra beyond. But soon she makes another discovery: her seventeen-year-old son, Francis has disappeared and is now considered a prime suspect in the murder of such violence, several other strange characters are down to the crime and Mrs. Ross has to set herself on the journey to the north to find her son and to clear his name.

Based on Bill Penney's novel of the same name published in more than 30 territories, the winner of numerous book awards including Cornish Literary Award, award for best novel as well as Book of the Year award.

THE WORLD UNSEEN
As the brutal institutions and tools of apartheid begin to solidify in Cape Town, feisty Aminna's Location Cafe is an oasis for social outcasts: a coloured waitress, a "coloured" business partner, Jacob and a white postmistress Madeline. Braving unjust laws and frequent police incursions, Aminna is thunderstruck upon meeting a demure, decidedly married mother, Miriam. Although Miriam tries to subdue her fascination with unconventional Aminna, she finds herself slowly confronting familiar and familial constraints. As Jacob and Madeline start a tentative affair, Aminna begins giving Miriam driving lessons with potentially liberating consequences...

Tala, a London-based Jordanian of Palestinian origin prepares for her elaborate wedding with Hani, her Jordanian fiancé, when she encounters Leyla, a young British Indian woman who is dating her best friend Ali.

Spirited Christian Tala and shy Muslim Leyla could not be more different from each other but the attraction is immediate. Tala's feisty nature provokes Leyla out of her shell and soon both women reveal their feelings for each other.

But Tala is not ready to accept the implications of the choice her heart has made and escapes back to Jordan where her chain-smoking high-brow mother finishes preparations for an ostentatious wedding. As family members descend and the wedding day approaches, simmering family tensions come to boiling point and the pressure mounts for Tala to be true to herself.

Heartbroken heart broken Leyla realises her newly found sense of identity and self-respect and moves on with her new life - much to the shock of her tradition-loving Indian parents.

Single again, Tala flies back to London but it will take more than just a date set up by Ali and Leyla's sister Zita to win Leyla back.

DESPITE THE FALLING SNOW
IN PRE-PRODUCTION

Genre: Drama
Writer/Director: Shamim Sarif
Leading cast: Lisa Ray

A powerful, epic love story, Despite the Falling Snow moves effortlessly across eras and continents, present day Boston and 1950's Moscow, to unfold an enthralling drama of love, treachery and redemption. After an early career amongst the political elite of Cold War Russia, seventy year old Alexander has built a successful business empire in the United States. A kind, passionate man, he has managed to bury the tragic memories of his early life in Soviet Russia with his charismatic late wife, Katya. But into his life come two women. One begins to open up the heart he has kept protected for so long. The other is determined to uncover the truth about what really happened to Katya all those years ago. The story's journey from Moscow takes us into a breathtaking world of true love lost, and of friendships betrayed.

Synopsis

Tala, a London-based Jordanian of Palestinian origin prepares for an elaborate wedding with her Jordanian fiancé, when the roomer Leyla, a young British Indian woman who is dating her best friend Ali.

Spirited Christian Tala and shy Muslim Leyla could not be more different from each other but the attraction is immediate. Tala's fiery nature provokes Leyla out of her shell and soon both women reveal their feelings for each other.

But Tala is not ready to accept the implications of the choice her heart has made and escapes back to Jordan where her chain-smoking high-brow mother finishes preparations for an ostentatious wedding. As family members descend and the wedding day approaches, simmering family tensions come to boiling point and the pressure mounts for Tala to be true to herself.

Meanwhile heartbroken Leyla widens her newly found sense of identity and self-respect and moves on with her new life – much to the shock of her tradition-loving Indian parents.

Single again, Tala flies back to London – but it will take more than just a date set up by Ali and Leyla's sister Zara to win Leyla back.

MOTHER "Oh, never the car, cook. She makes the best cakes. And never pass up a veggie." FATHER "It's gay." "But I've only been gone two hours!" BOYFRIEND "She's not her mother. Tala is gay. Trust me, you'll love her." SISTER "She's nice! Nice, as in Mum's bridge club ladies 'nice', or nice as in 'hot'?"	MOTHER "Maybe I should try a South American one. As long as it's a kind of 'world economy', I don't mind where it is." FATHER "They should have gone for an insurance for weddings. That stuff would still work." FIANCE "Yes, he is wonderful. As long as I don't find anything wrong with him." "If you're just saying." SISTER "I've been alone with Mama and Laila for four whole days. I think I found those weapons of mass destruction. I wish you'd look for. How clever of him to disguise them as two Arab businessmen." SISTER "I don't do carbs."
